

Low Farrow Cattery

Terms and Conditions of Boarding

Health and Vaccinations

Only cats that have a current vaccination certificate against Feline Infectious Enteritis, Feline Leukaemia, and upper respiratory infections (Cat Flu) can be accepted for boarding. Owners must produce an up-to-date inoculation certificate on or before arrival. Should the annual booster be due, it should be given at least 14 days before the first day of boarding.

Rabbits should also be up to date with any necessary vaccinations as advised by a qualified veterinary surgeon. Details of last flea and worm treatment will be asked for on or prior to arrival - should a cat be found to have either, it will be treated prior to or at the commencement to boarding at the owner's expense.

No animal suffering from, or suspected to be suffering from, any infectious disease can be accepted. All animals will be examined on arrival, but the proprietor reserves the right to refuse admission to any animal showing signs of ill health pending advice from a Veterinary Surgeon.

We do not board un-neutered male cats over the age of seven months, pregnant females, or females in season without prior agreement.

By agreeing to these terms and conditions, owners are authorising Low Farrow Cattery and Small Animal Boarding and its staff to treat or authorise treatment for boarding cats/pets on their behalf.

Owners will appreciate that this is essential to safeguard the health & welfare of all cats boarded with us.

Boarding/Day Charge Rate

We charge a full day's board for the day of arrival and the day of departure, as the chalet is only available to your cat/pet on those days.

Only cats from the same household may board in the same pen and by agreeing to these terms and conditions, owners are expressly authorising this unless they request separate pens. We reserve the right to separate any 'sharing' pets should the need arise, and the owners agree to this taking place for the safety and welfare of the animal concerned.

Medication & Injuries

Owners must notify us of any injuries the cat/pet has and any medications and/or treatments required to be given during the booking period in advance of arrival and gain explicit agreement from us that we will accept the injured cat/pet and/or to give the medication and/or treatments.

Owners must also notify us of any changes to medications and/or treatments required to be given during the booking period in advance of arrival and gain explicit agreement from us that we will give the medication and/or treatments that have changed.

Usually, most medications and treatments can be given during the stay however we reserve the right to refuse giving medication and/or treatments if we are not notified before arrival, or if the cat is unwilling to take the medication and presents a risk of injury to cattery staff, or the medication presents a danger or hazard to staff.

We are happy to accept pets with conditions that require injection (for example Diabetes), subject to the agreement of both parties as to the treatment programme being undertaken. This must be as instructed by the owner's veterinary surgeon. We reserve the right to contact said surgeon should the need arise during the animals stay.

Owners are required to provide sufficient medication (with some extra in case of delays etc) for the duration of the booking.

If a booking is cancelled due to injury, medication and/or treatments being required that we are unable to accept, normal cancellation terms apply.

We will always try our best endeavours to give medication as prescribed; however, no guarantee is made or implied that the medication will be given correctly. Low Furrow Cattery and Small Animal Boarding and its staff cannot accept any responsibility for any medication given with or without the owner's consent.

If during a cats/pets stay, we are unable to give medication, a veterinary surgeon will be contacted and if required administer any medication. This is at the owner's cost.

If during a cats/pets stay, it is necessary to give first aid to a pet, this will be done in accordance with standard industry guidelines, where possible and if time permits, with the permission of the owners (or their designated contact person) or under the supervision, or instruction, from either the owners veterinary surgeon, or the veterinary surgeon associated with Low Furrow Cattery.

It is agreed that should the need arise, that the owner's veterinary surgeon (as noted on the Admission Form) may advise necessary emergency treatment provided by them in conjunction (where possible), with consultation of the owner or their appointed person. In the event of no consultation being available the owner agrees that all emergency vital treatment is provided, for which the owner will provide reimbursement to the veterinary surgeon, or to Low Furrow Cattery, as necessary.

Multiple Cat Sharing / Necessary to separate

The owner consents that in the event of multiple cats being boarded together, that they can share facilities and do agree that if it is felt necessary due to their behaviour they may be placed in separate pens.

Any toys, equipment, bedding, carrier etc that is left on site at Low Furrow Cattery and Small Animal Boarding will be kept within the chalet to which the animal is boarded. These will remain for the sole use of the animal(s) for which they are intended. No responsibility will be given for any items which are damaged during the animals boarding. We will of course endeavour to keep all items left with us safe and secure.

We reserve the right to re-allocate the chalet/pen allocated to a booking and cannot guarantee a specific chalet/pen for bookings. We reserve the right to move cat/s to different pens during a booking if deemed necessary.

Collection of Pet(s).

In the event of owners being unable to collect their pets, another authorised person MAY collect on their behalf providing that the cattery are advised in advance (and identification is presented to confirm the identity of the authorised person). CATS will only be released to their owners, unless prior authorisation has been provided and agreed between both parties.

Late Arrival / Early Collection

In the event of owners not arriving on the date booked or returning on a date prior to the end date of the period for which the cat/pet is booked, the full original booking period will be charged, together with any additional day rates chargeable.
